

Understanding New York's STAR Program

What is STAR?

Most New York state homeowners are familiar with STAR, the School Tax Relief program launched in 1998-99. Originally intended to assist senior citizen homeowners, STAR was quickly increased and expanded to include residential properties of other school district taxpayers.

Qualified homeowners, who must apply to participate in STAR through their local assessor, receive a partial property tax exemption under the program. The Basic STAR and Enhanced STAR exemptions reduce what homeowners would otherwise owe on their property tax bills. Most STAR recipients save several hundred dollars on their property taxes each year.

Several factors contribute to the calculation of the actual exemption amount, including the level of assessment in the community and, for Enhanced STAR only, an annual adjustment based on the rate of inflation. Prior-year savings under STAR are also a factor, as there is now a 2 percent cap on the increase in maximum STAR savings over the previous year.

STAR exemption amounts are calculated by the Office of Real Property Tax Services, a division of the NYS Department of Taxation and Finance. A homeowner's property tax bill clearly states the exemption amount and tax savings. If taxes are held in an escrow account, homeowners should receive a receipt that includes STAR information.

How does STAR affect school districts?

Local school districts are reimbursed by the state for property tax revenues that go uncollected as a result of STAR exemptions. Based on the governor's executive budget proposal in January 2016, STAR would shift an estimated $3.1 billion from the local tax burden to the state in 2016-17.

Although STAR exemptions apply to school property taxes, school districts have no influence over the exemptions or tax savings. Because assessment data and equalization rates are not usually available during the spring school budget season, school districts frequently resist quoting future tax rates related to their proposed spending plans. Accurate tax information becomes available later in the summer before tax bills are sent to residents.

In 2016, as part of a new property tax rebate created by lawmakers last year, all 2.5 million homeowners who qualify for a STAR exemption also will receive a $185 check from the state, except those living in the New York City suburbs, who will receive $130. Between 2017 and 2019, the rebate amounts will be tied to a percentage of homeowners' STAR tax savings and be available only to households with incomes under $275,000.

TWO TYPES OF STAR

Basic STAR is available on a homeowner's primary residence only and for households with an income of less than $500,000. Homeowners need apply only once for Basic STAR, and it remains in effect until ownership of the home changes. The exemption amount is calculated each year, and actual tax savings may change annually.

Enhanced STAR assists homeowners age 65 and older with household incomes below a specific limit that is adjusted annually based on the rate of inflation ($84,550 as of 2016). The income limit is applied to all owners of the property and any owner's spouse who resides at the property. Enhanced STAR is available on the homeowners' primary residence only, and requires an annual application* with proof of income, typically by March 1.

Visit www.tax.ny.gov/pit/property/star/special_eligibility.htm for guidance on special eligibility rules for seniors with limited incomes, residents of cooperative apartments and manufactured home parks, surviving spouses, nursing home residents, trusts and life estates.

*Under a law passed in 2015, all seniors applying for Enhanced STAR have the option of participating in an Income Verification Program (IVP) that allows seniors to authorize the assessor to have their incomes verified in subsequent years by the Department of Taxation and Finance.

Proposals May Change STAR

Gov. Andrew Cuomo's executive budget proposal in January 2016 included four initiatives that could change some aspects of STAR if adopted into law:

Proposal 1: Convert the STAR exemption into a refundable personal income tax credit for first-time homebuyers.

Proposal 2: Cap annual growth in Basic and Enhanced STAR benefits at 2016 levels, rather than allowing them to grow by up to 2 percent.

Proposal 3: Permit late filing of Enhanced STAR renewal applications for cases of hardship (such as a serious personal illness or hospitalization), as late as the last day of the interest-free period for payment of school taxes.

Proposal 4: Make participation in the IVP for Enhanced STAR recipients mandatory, therefore eliminating the annual need to re-apply.
